

Dear ENERGY STAR for Windows, Doors, and Skylights Partner:

On October 3, 2008, President Bush signed into law the "Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008," which included an extension of the residential energy efficiency tax credits that expired on December 31, 2007. Energy efficient improvements made in 2009 will be eligible for the tax credit, but improvements made in 2008 are excluded. The tax credit extension will expire December 31, 2009.

Since this is an extension of the tax credit offered in 2006 and 2007, the parameters of the credit are exactly the same. Complete information on the tax credit is available at www.energystar.gov/taxcredit. Additional details on windows, doors, and skylights are available at http://www.energystar.gov/index.cfm?c=windows_doors.pr_taxcredits.

Thank you for supporting ENERGY STAR.

Richard H. Karney, P.E.
ENERGY STAR Program Manager
US Department of Energy